

Summer Book Club

Long, lazy summer days are perfect for curling up with a favourite book – or ten. What makes it even more fun is sharing those books with your buddies.

Your Own Book Club

Decide on a book you all want to read and invite your friends to a book party. You can send out homemade book-themed invitations.

Questions for Your Book Club Meeting:

- ➔ Which character did you like the best? Why?
- ➔ Did you believe the story? Did the characters seem like real people?
- ➔ What was the most interesting thing about the story?
- ➔ Imagine yourself in the main character's place. Would you have made the same choices?
- ➔ Do you prefer fiction – made-up stories – or non-fiction – books that are fact based? Why?
- ➔ What would you change about this book to make it better?
